13 Day Patagonian Hiking Adventure

IMPORTANT NOTE: Any extra nights, optional tours or other amendments, will not be visible on this itinerary.

Day 1: Arrive El Calafate, Argentina

Welcome to Argentina. On arrival at El Calafate Airport, you will be met and transferred to your accommodation in town.

The remainder of the day is at leisure to explore El Calafate at your own pace. This charming Patagonian town is the gateway to Los Glaciares National Park and offers a range of cafes, shops and scenic viewpoints.

Later this evening, enjoy a welcome dinner where you will meet your fellow travellers and prepare for the journey ahead.

MEALS: Welcome Dinner

OVERNIGHT: Hostería Puerto San Julián, El Calafate

Day 2: El Calafate ~ El Chaltén, Argentina

After breakfast, depart by road for the scenic journey to El Chaltén, a distance of approximately 220 km. Along the way, stop to enjoy local pastries and coffee while taking in the sweeping Patagonian landscapes.

On arrival in El Chaltén, begin your trek towards the Fitz Roy Massif. Carry only the essentials needed for the next two nights, with remaining luggage stored securely and returned upon your return.

The hike begins with a gentle ascent along the Fitz Roy Trail, gradually gaining elevation above the Río de las Vueltas valley. After a few hours, reach the first viewpoints of the iconic Fitz Roy peaks, followed by a further walk through forests and open terrain towards your camp.

Arrive at your fully serviced camp within Los Glaciares National Park, where you will enjoy spectacular views of the Fitz Roy spires rising above the surrounding glaciers.

APPROXIMATE DRIVING DISTANCE: 220 km

MEALS: Breakfast, Box Lunch, Dinner

OVERNIGHT: Full Camp, El Chaltén

Day 3: Mount Fitz Roy & Laguna de los Tres, Argentina

Start the day early with the opportunity to witness the first light of sunrise illuminating the granite walls of Mount Fitz Roy, a truly unforgettable Patagonian experience.

After breakfast, set out on a full day hike carrying only essential items including warm layers, water, camera and your packed lunch. Follow the Fitz Roy Trail towards Río Blanco, the climbers' basecamp on the eastern side of the mountain.

From here, tackle a steep one hour ascent to Laguna de los Tres, one of the most spectacular viewpoints in Los Glaciares National Park. The vivid blue lagoon sits at the base of the Fitz Roy massif, offering close up views of its towering spires and surrounding glaciers.

After time to take in the scenery and enjoy your lunch, begin the return trek back to camp, arriving in the late afternoon.

APPROXIMATE WALKING TIME: 9 Hours

APPROXIMATE WALKING DISTANCE: 20 km

MEALS: Breakfast, Box Lunch, Dinner

OVERNIGHT: Full Camp, El Chaltén

Day 4: Cerro Torre & Laguna Torre ~ El Chaltén, Argentina

Today, depart camp and begin your trek through the scenic valleys of Lagoons Madre and Hija, continuing down into the Río Fitz Roy valley to connect with the Cerro Torre Trail.

Hike through native beech forest, open shrubland and glacial terrain as you make your way towards Laguna Torre. This striking glacial lagoon is framed by moraines, with Glacier Grande calving into its western edge and icebergs often drifting across the water.

Enjoy spectacular views of the slender granite spires of Cerro Torre and the Adela Range before beginning your return hike to El Chaltén in the afternoon.

APPROXIMATE WALKING TIME: 8 Hours

APPROXIMATE WALKING DISTANCE: 19 km

MEALS: Breakfast, Box Lunch

OVERNIGHT: Hotel Pudu Lodge, El Chaltén

Day 5: Loma del Pliegue Tumbado ~ El Chaltén, Argentina

Today, set out on a scenic hike to Loma del Pliegue Tumbado, located just south of the Cerro Torre valley. This lesser visited trail offers some of the best panoramic views across the region.

As you ascend, take in sweeping views over the Fitz Roy and Cerro Torre massifs, along with the vast glacial valley that separates them. The landscape opens up dramatically as you gain elevation, revealing glaciers, lakes and rugged Patagonian terrain.

Depending on conditions and group ability, you may continue to the summit via a steady climb over scree slopes, or enjoy the incredible vistas from the lower terraces.

After time to explore and enjoy your surroundings, return to El Chaltén in the late afternoon.
